

MMJC

31 July 2026

i insights

Navigating Corporate Governance in an Era of Disruption

This article addresses how boards and governance professionals must evolve oversight mechanisms to handle rapid technology changes, regulatory shifts, and emerging risks.

Mr. Makarand Joshi – Founder Partner

Read the full insight here

Can a regulator reopen an approved merger years later?

The Supreme Court's ruling in the Amazon–Future case goes far beyond one transaction. It clarifies the limits of regulatory powers, reinforces the importance of statutory timelines, and brings greater certainty to India's merger control regime.

Mr. Omkar Dindorkar – Partner

Watch the full insight here

Impact of Labour Codes on listed companies

This article details how the consolidated Labour Codes alter statutory liabilities, payroll structures, governance compliance, and financial reporting for listed entities in India.

Mr. Vallabh Joshi – Associate Director

Read the full insight here

A new export opportunity for Indian Manufacturers

A significant shift in India's FDI policy could open new global opportunities for Indian manufacturers.

DPIIT has introduced a targeted exception that permits inventory-based e-commerce for exports, while keeping the domestic FDI framework unchanged. This could help Indian manufacturers access global markets through e-commerce platforms while shifting logistics, fulfilment and export-related processes to larger export intermediaries.

Ms. Ridhi Gada – Manager

Read the full insight here

Fit and Proper Criteria in InvITs: Continuous Compliance and Oversight

This article highlights that satisfying SEBI's "Fit and Proper Person" criteria for trustees, directors, and key managerial personnel in InvITs is an ongoing compliance obligation rather than a one-time check.

Ms. Rutuja Umadikar – Deputy Manager – R&D

Read the full insight here